FIRST LETTERS PROGRAM

For parents with children from
4 to 7 years old

Introduction:

Your child is not a baby anymore. You can teach her about herself since her personality is now developing, and she is approaching the age of reason. You will learn about how to be the best parents with your child's unique personality and talents by giving her individualized attention at this stage of development.

The First Letters course will help you, to reconcile the unique upbringing you are creating with the influence of friends and family. You, both husband and wife, will work as a team to create or rediscover your family style to raise your children with the foundation of human virtues and how to introduce these values to your child.
